

One of the spiritual highlights of my life was being in the home of my Grandfather. My four Grandparents died before I could remember. It was so special, feeling the spirit in that home. I felt for the first time I really knew Grandfather. As we saw each place of birth, the roads they traveled, where they attended church, were christened, etc., the visit to the Dairy, I felt I knew them personally.

It was extra special having Paul, Margaret and the boys with us. It made every experience come alive. Paul has a mission here. He is truly a servant of the Lord.

The country was more beautiful than I had imagined. It was especially nice to get better acquainted with each of you. No amount of money could replace the experience I have had here. Everyone in the Kunz family should take advantage of the opportunity.

Carol K. Howell

I have never done any genealogy because it never interested me, but seeing the places where my forefathers were born and accepted the Gospel gave me a desire to know more about them and their lives and families and traveling with my relatives was the funnest part of all.

Joni Kennett